2nd March

This week at playgroup

Dear Parents

Welcome back! We hope you all had a nice half term despite the various storms! We had a busy week as always at playgroup last week and we are looking forward to celebrating World Book Day this week with lots of book related activities planned for the children. Many thanks to those parents who attended the recent coffee morning and a big thanks you for to Lindsay for hosting. We are keen to make these a regular feature so look out for details of the next one.

World Book Day on Thursday 5th March. Children are welcome to dress up as their favourite character from a book and we ask for £1 donation. We can't wait to see all the children dressed up on Thursday. If your child attends all day please make sure they have appropriate clothing for Woodland Warriors in the afternoon.

You will be hearing lots of conflicting information about the coronavirus via the Media. We would like to share the official guidance from the government with you. We have also be speaking to the children about hand washing and we even set up a "snuffle station" today to help the children learn about hygiene and wiping their noses. If you have any concerns then please speak to Tania.

Babysdays – Tip of the Week

Many thanks to all of those parents who have been logging onto Babysdays and signing policies, permissions and contracts. We are using Babysdays more and more to communicate with parents and you can also use it to communicate with staff.

The screen shots show a green attention button if you click FEED, you will come to the list of items which need attention. Click the magnifying glass to view and sign.

Another date for the diary – our annual fun day will take place on Sunday 31st May. Please keep this date free as we need lots of parental help and everyone to attend. This is our biggest fundraiser of the year. Please look out for details of fundraising meetings and how you can help.
